We wish to expand our distribution and therefore we are looking for additional sales partners in many countries. Although we have already partners in several countries, it might be that in your country there is still an opening.

Our partners should have experience in harsh environment / rugged electronics sales with advantage for Power Systems products.

Our Partners should take on the sales and the technical service and the handling of warranty issues.

In case of a cooperation we will offer the following support:

- Sales training
- Technical training
- English information and material of our products
- Other languages upon request
- Support in marketing and sales
- Support in exhibitions
